++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mostly dry with bright or sunny spells.

Today:
Generally dry with bright or sunny spells for much of the day, although tending to turn a little cloudy in the afternoon for a time. Temperatures a little cooler than recently. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Tonight:
A bright evening but areas of cloud will spread southwards overnight, bringing perhaps the odd isolated patch of rain or drizzle, mainly across the north. Clearer in the south. Minimum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Tuesday:
A bright start but becoming rather cloudy with patchy outbreaks of light rain or drizzle toward East Anglian coasts, drier inland. Winds remaining light. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Mainly dry Wednesday and Thursday with variable amounts of cloud and some bright spells. A band of cloud moves south Friday but it is likely to remain dry.
